FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Roanoke Police Department Joins CrimeWeb Network

Roanoke, Texas, October 9, 2007 – The Roanoke Police Department has partnered with CrimeWeb.net to provide citizens with up-to-date information about crime in the city. CrimeWeb provides a police department the ability to quickly and easily distribute information regarding missing children, missing adults, major crimes and homeland security.

Roanoke Police Sergeant Almonrode spearheaded the CrimeWeb program for the department.

The police department will kick-off the program during its annual “Celebrate Roanoke” event on October 13, 2007. During the event, information booths will be set up for citizens to learn more about CrimeWeb.net and to sign up for the free service.

Online registration to receive alerts via email or cell phone is free of charge. Visit <http://www.roanoketexas.com> to sign up today!

About CrimeWeb

CrimeWeb is a centralized clearinghouse used by public safety agencies across the nation to distribute information to the communities they serve. The patented CrimeWeb process is the most effective method of delivering information to a targeted population of citizens.

Citizens can sign-up for free at www.crimeweb.net and receive specific alert types from any geographical area that is of interest to the subscriber. CrimeWeb’s patented technology and proprietary zip code engine allows a subscribing agency to distribute alerts anywhere in the country. Alerts can be sent to citizen subscribers in specific zip codes, up to 99 miles around a specific zip code or to all registered users located geographically between two zip codes.
