FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Dover Police Department Joins the CrimeWeb Network

Mesquite, Texas April 1, 2007 - The CrimeWeb Network announces its newest user, the Dover Police department (Delaware). The Dover Police department is the first agency in Delaware to join dozens of other law enforcement agencies across the county that utilize CrimeWeb in their community. Dover Police will use the industry-renowned network to disseminate crime and public safety information to local residents and other organizations.

The CrimeWeb system will allow the Dover Police to email residents about major crimes, registered sex offenders, missing children/adults, school safety information, community information and homeland security information.

Sign up for free at www.crimeweb.net and interact with the police department if you have information or feedback regarding any reported alerts.

About CrimeWeb

CrimeWeb is a centralized clearinghouse used by public safety agencies across the nation to distribute information to the communities they serve. The patented CrimeWeb process is the most effective method of delivering information to a targeted population of citizens.

Citizens can sign-up for free at www.crimeweb.net and receive specific alert types from any geographical area that is of interest to the subscriber. CrimeWeb's patented technology and proprietary zip code engine allows a subscribing agency to distribute alerts anywhere in the country. Alerts can be sent to citizen subscribers in specific zip codes, up to 99 miles around a specific zip code or to all registered users located geographically between two zip codes.
