

CrimeWeb Network, LLC
Contact: Tarsha Polk
Phone: 214-728-2803
www.crimeweb.net

Listing of Louisiana Sex Offenders Possibly Displaced by Hurricane Katrina

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 14, 2005

In response to the potential threat posed by registered sex offenders who were possibly displaced by Hurricane Katrina, The CrimeWeb Network (www.CrimeWeb.Net) has constructed a centralized database of information regarding displaced Louisiana Sex Offenders that may be accessed by law enforcement and the general public. The information includes the names and photographs of registered sex offenders from the State of Louisiana who have been identified by Louisiana state officials as having possibly been displaced by Hurricane Katrina and as a result may possibly now be residing in other areas of the country.

You can view the database located at <http://www.crimeweb.net/offenders.asp>. Each record also contains links to the State of Louisiana web resources where additional information about these offenders may be obtained. To view a recent story about the sex offenders click here: <http://www.kcentv.com/video/9-12/fri/website.wmv>

About CrimeWeb

The CrimeWeb alerting service is provided FREE to citizens. The goal of CrimeWeb is to provide a fast and efficient method of communication between law enforcement agencies and the communities they serve. Founded in 1997, the web-based CrimeWeb application has successfully distributed millions of notifications to citizens via computers, cell phones, text pagers and other devices. Alerts typically are classified as:

- Major Crimes
- Missing Adults
- Missing Children
- Community Information
- School Information
- Homeland Security

To learn more about CrimeWeb Network visit www.crimeweb.net or call 888-33-CRIME

#####